MEET THE EXPERIENCEMAKERS™

Experiences drive value. At North American Properties, we believe so much in this that we trademarked the term ExperienceMakers™. ExperienceMaking isn't just about a place. The best locations in the world can fail if the magic isn't there. ExperienceMaking is about energy. It's about creating more than a place to go, it's about creating a place to be, a place where positive energy brings people back, time and again. It is about connecting with the community at an emotional level. It's a place where the energy is both memorable and remarkable. It's a place where memories are made—and shared, posted, and tweeted about—creating a buzz that draws retailers, office tenants, and guests, building its own momentum.
